On click of a product module (title, price, description or learn more), product details section should show up. Clicking on X should close product details.
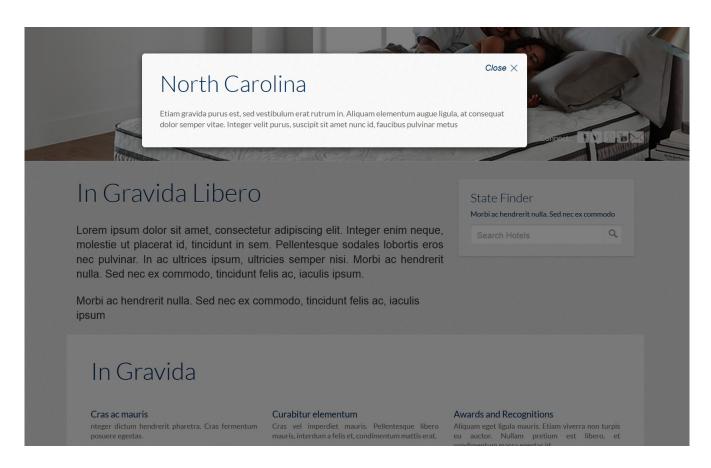

When hovering over a feature number the number should grow slightly (this should only be for the bowl image not the rest of the products). The corresponding number on the product should grow as well.

Selecting a price range will show only the corresponding products within that range.

State finder should be an autocomplete. User should be able to type a state and have the results narrow down to it. You can populate the states however you want.

When a user clicks on a state a modal should pop with the states name as a title, the lorem ipsum doesn't need to be unique. You can use libraries to handle the modal if you want.
